Several more suspects were arrested on Tuesday. The Episcopal arms were carved on the pillars of Archbishop McCabe's house in Dublin, owing, it is supposed, to the Archbishop's recent pastoral. The agrarian outrages in Ireland during October number 406, as follows: Munster, 23; Connaught, 133; Leinster, 102; Ulster, 32.

At the first sitting of the Land Commission in Limerick there was a large attendance, and about two hundred claims for reduction of rent were presented to the court.

THE LORD MAYOR'S PROCESSION.

LONDON, November 9.—The new Lord Mayor went in solemn procession to Guildhall with the usual ancient display, which drew immense crowds, and with the innovation in the programme with the object of honoring the American people, which received great enthusiasm. The stars and stripes were carried in the procession, preceded by the drum and fife band of the fourth battalion of the London militia playing the "Star Spangled Banner." After a short interval came the band from the training ship War Sprite, playing "Yankee Doodle."

The same honor was not conspicuously rendered to any other feature of the procession, except when the coach, of the new and old mayors passed by. IRISH AFFAIRS.

DUBLIN, November 9.—Although private meetings even in the North of Ireland are still being held by the tenants who were members of the Land League, yet the organization as an organization for League purposes is practically dead.

Sir Maurice O'Connell, nephew of the Liberator, has met his tenants at Tralee, and except in two cases arrived at agreements which will be presented to the Land Courts. The agreements involve a con-considerable reduction in rents. The Freeman's Journal welcomes the revival of the Home Rule organization. It believes the question of home rule now the great and only one.

IRISH RENT REDUCTIONS.

LONDON, November 9.—The first arrangement between landlord and tenant under the landlord and tenant act occurred on the Crown estate, belonging to an ex-member of Parliament for County Mayo. The tenants agreed to the leases for three years at a reduction of from three pounds to ten shillings per year on each holding, calculated on rent paid in the past ten

PARIS, November 9.—In the Chamber of Deputies Premier Ferry replied to Clemenceau's attacks on the Government. He said the Government would be open to censure if it had not supported the interests of French subjects. The time had arrived to terminate the intrigues against French influence in Tunis. It was impossible to adjust frontier disputes amicably because of the impotency of the Bey. The Government would support the action of French diplomats, and had guarded French interests by means of a protectorate, which permitted France to take what others would have taken. It was the sole means of closing the frontier of Algeria against the dangers threatened by the possible extension of the eastern conflict to the Mediterranean.
